KEY HEALTH AND NUTRITIONAL BENEFITS OF WIC

-  Reduces the prevalence of household food insecurity, increases housing security, lifts participants above the poverty line, and protects against economic hardships
-  Reduces the incidence of preterm births and low birth weight
-  Reduces incidence of iron-deficiency anemia among infants and children
-  Increases access to early prenatal care and encourages breastfeeding
-  Improves diet quality and intake of key nutrients
-  Improves access to healthcare and social services

Eligible Population Participating in WIC

Thriving PA is a non-partisan, statewide campaign that seeks to improve the quality of and increase equitable access to a coordinated system of health supports, including access to comprehensive perinatal health services, children's health insurance, nutrition supports, and lead screening and abatement.

With a decline in participation for the WIC program over the last several years, Thriving PA recommends:

- Improving WIC technology to remove barriers to access and meet families where they are - including developing an online Smart Card and mobile app, permanently implementing telehealth policies, investing in WIC online purchasing, and establishing a technology and innovation workgroup.
- Integrating WIC into the portfolio of services available to low-income families and promoting connections among key programs, including health care, early childhood education, SNAP, and Medicaid.
- Expanding eligibility, including adopting a policy for adjunctive eligibility, and streamlining certification.
- Promoting more targeted outreach to populations and counties with low WIC coverage rates.
